The Chico Record says that a stranger, riding an iron-gray horse, was taken into custody by constables at Prattville last Friday, on suspicion that he was Parker, the murderer, as his appearance corresponded with the description of Parker. He refused to give his name or any account of himself, asserting that he was innocent and should not be molested. On Sunday morning a man passed who had known Parker, and he said that the captive was not the murderer. He was then released and left.

The Chico Enterprise says that a man from the Glenn ranch went to Jacinto on Sunday for clothes he had left at a laundry there. Having forgotten the tag, the Chinaman refused to give him his clothes; a row followed, during which a sick Chinaman in an adjoining room was frightened at the noise, and wrapping the bedclothes around him, ran out of the front door. Among his traps was a loaded pistol, and as he was coming down the steps leading from the house, the pistol dropped from his bundle and went off. The men, thinking that the pistol had been fired at them, made for the sick Chinaman, and he was arrested and taken to Willows and a charge of assault to murder entered against him.

THE CARSON FOOT PRINTS.

If the footprints are those of man, they prove that man lived here before Shasta, Lassen and other mountains of the Sierra were throwing out lava and filling up the channels of the pre-existing rivers, as well as forming our "table mountains." They show that man lived in Nevada at a period geologically so remote that its climate was very different from what it is at the present time. They prove that man lived here at a time when the rainfall was much greater than at the present time; at a time when there were glaciers cutting out Donner Lake and cutting down the granite and creating canyons at the sources of the American and Yuba rivers; at a time when Central Nevada was a lake region, one whose lakes were so large that Walker, the Carson sinks, Humboldt, Pyramid and Winnemucca lakes, were but the lower levels of this great sheet of fresh water. If the footprints of man, they prove that man was here during the later tertiary period, and was a contemporary of the mastodon and elephant, at a time when the horse, now fossil, ranged from Oregon to Wyoming. At a time when Nevada contained forests of deciduous trees, through which ranged an animal that had some of the characteristics of both the camel and the lama; also a cave bear and a tiger, that, from its teeth, is called the saber-toothed tiger. If the footprints of man, they show that man must have been created some few years before 4004, B. C., and that Arch-Bishop Usher must have made a mistake in his addition. If the footprints of man they lead to the inference that it man was "created upright," he must have been created a very low average of upright savage, with but little more intelligence than those anthropoid apes that break nuts between stones to get at the kernel. If they are the footprints of man in a stratum of clay from fifteen to thirty-two feet below the surface, in a quarry of hard sandstone, they would show that man has been on the earth at least twelve, if not fifty thousand years. General Pitt Rivers, President of the Anthropological Society of Great Britain, stated at a recent meeting of that society, that while in Egypt he had examined the pedestal to a monument of one of the kings of the earliest dynasty of the country, who is thought to have reigned about 5,000 years ago, and he found the pedestal to have been quarried from conglomerate or pudding stone. Among the stones cemented together by nature to make the pudding stone, he found a flint arrow-head. Therefore, man had existed who used flint instead of iron for weapons so long before that Pharaoh, that there had been time for this lost arrow-head to be washed by a stream with pebbles until deposited in a place where it and the pebbles became consolidated into a hard stone, to be afterwards quarried, and cut to make the foundation for the monument of a King, who reigned some thousands of years before Moses was born. If the footprints were made by man they have important relation to what is already established, for they show that man has existed on the earth during vast periods of time, and while they do not show how any person can make money, they do show, or at least give us a hint, of how man must have originated and developed; but they leave the dark curtain of the future as tightly drawn and impenetrable as ever.

The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company and the Union Pacific Railroad Company are engaged in a bitter war. The Denver and Rio Grande is shipping all its track iron and material by the southern route, via San Francisco, thence over the C. P. to Ogden.

J. C. Harlow, of the Carson Appeal, is making his fight for State Printer and from present indications will be the choice of the Convention. Mr. Harlow is a good man and a first-class printer and if elected the State work will be carefully looked after.

THE ENEMY'S BANKS.

We understand that, in the fight for the nomination for Sheriff on the Democratic ticket, the "third term" argument is being used against Sheriff Walker by the friends of his opponents. How the Democrats can consistently use this line of argument is a mystery to us. In 1876 J. E. Jones was nominated for the third time for Sheriff by the Democrats of this county. In 1878 Governor L. R. Bradley received the nomination the third time at the hands of his party for Governor. J. B. Williams, the present incumbent, has filled the office of County Recorder four times, and will doubtless be nominated by his political friends for the fifth time in the coming Democratic County Convention. With these facts in view we think that Walker will hardly be beaten for the nomination by the "third term" argument. It should be the aim of all conventions to nominate the strongest men, and it appears to us that the oftener a man is elected to office the more clearly is the fact demonstrated that he is a strong man, to be again placed on the ticket. For the success of the Republican nominee for Sheriff it might almost be hoped that Walker will not be the Democratic nominee for Sheriff, for we are forced to admit that he would be a hard horse to carry.

What Money Will Do.
 FRESNO, August 21.
 A difficulty occurred here Saturday between P. J. Hensley and W. J. Brown. Hensley drew a pistol, when Brown sprang at him and grasped the weapon. A struggle ensued during which the weapon was discharged. The ball inflicted a wound in Brown's thigh, but its progress was stopped by a $20-gold piece in his pocket. Brown wrenched the weapon from Hensley's hand, when the latter turned and fled. Brown fired a shot which struck him in the back, and ranging upward and forward, passed through the right lung.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Leigh Smith's Exploring Expedition Found and Rescued.

New York, August 21.
 The Herald's London special has the following details: A telegram from Aberdeen says the Hope, with Lieutenant Smith and his crew arrived there to-day. All are well. The Eira was nipped in the ice and sank August 21st, last year, off Cape Flora. The crew wintered at Cape Flora, suffering considerable hardships. They were picked up on the Nova Zenbla coast by a Dutch schooner and conveyed on board the Hope. Leigh Smith gives the following narrative: On the 14th of June, 1881, the Eira left Peterhead. The ice was very far south and no opening could be found to enable her to get north until the middle of July. Franz Josefland was reached July 28. The Eira steamed along the coast to within 15 miles of Cape Ludlow. The ice was closely packed to the north, so I decided to return to Gray bay and wait till a more favorable opportunity should present itself to go north. On August 7th the Eira was made fast to a land floe near Belle Island. A stone house was erected by material taken out of the Eira. On August 15 the Eira left Belle Island, and being unable to pass to the eastward of Barents Hook, was made fast to a land floe, off Cape Flora. The next few days were spent in collecting plants and fossils, which, unfortunately were lost with the vessel. On August 21 the Eira was heavily nipped at about 10 in the morning. A leak was discovered, and all hands were set to work on the pumps. The donkey engine was also started, but was soon disconnected from the pumps, and by means of the steam which six casks of flour and about eight of bread were saved from the main hold. By this time the leak had gained to such an extent that nothing more could be saved from the lower deck, and the engines again started to pump, but were soon crowded out by the rising water. All hands were then engaged in saving the stores in the after cabin, which consisted chiefly of vegetables and barley. Two hours elapsed from the leak being discovered till the time when the vessel had to be abandoned. The boats were saved and most of the men saved some clothing and bedding. Hardly had the last man left the ship when the ice eased up and the Eira rapidly sunk. Nothing came up except a few spar and a young polar bear in a cask. Some of the sails were cut away, and with them and some oars a tent was erected on the ice. A fire was lit and coffee was made, which, with bread and a pudding that had been made for the day's dinner, made a somewhat spare dinner for 35 men who had been worked nearly the whole day without food. There were not many grumbles, as everyone knew that he would have to learn to govern his appetite. The next morning everything was moved to the land, and a tent was put up at Cape Flora, and the crew went to bed with lighter hearts, as two bears had been shot during the day. It was soon evident that Winter would have to be spent at Cape Flora, as a house was built of stones and turf and covered with sails. For 16 nights all the crew lived in the tent, sometimes almost flooded out by rain, at others endeavoring to keep up the house during a heavy gale. Before the Winter set in 16 walrus were shot besides a number of bears. Our principal food consisted of walrus and bear meat, which, with vegetables, were served out three times a day. The cooking had to be done mostly inside the house, and the fire was mostly made by means of blubber and ropes, as very little coal and wood had been saved from the ship. Many times everybody was compelled to rush out of the house to avoid being suffocated with smoke, which the fire emitted. Everybody worked with a will until meat and blubber were safely stored in the but. This good fortune enabled an extra amount of meat to be cooked every day, and aided in preventing the excessive cold for the next few weeks being so disastrous to the crew as it otherwise might have been. Within 24 hours of the leaving of the ice four boats were safely hauled on the beach at Matohyn Straits. It was on the evening of August 21. Next morning after breakfast a schooner was seen coming out of the straits. A boat went to her. The boat's crew was heartily welcomed by cheers long before they got alongside. The schooner proved to be the William Barreets, commanded by Captain Hoffman, who, with his officers, showed every possible kindness to the men. Their boat's crew said the Hope was anchored within a mile of the place where the rest of the Eira's crew were still encamped. Previous to this several shots had been heard by the Eira's party early in the morning.

The Result of a Drunken Spree.

OMAHA, August 20.
 Last night about 11 o'clock, as Mr. Woolley and son, accompanied by Al. Squires, of this city, were driving home from town they were halted a short distance from the south side of Florence by a man who said, "Your money or your life." Squires pulled his revolver and shot the man in the neck, killing him instantly. The dead highwayman proved to be Emanuel

Schroeder on a drunken spree with J. Flintwell, Wm. F. McDonald and J. Dawson, of the 4th infantry. These four had, earlier in the evening, robbed Frank Lewon of six dollars. Flintwell, who was with Schroeder when he halted the team, yelled to Squires not to shoot as Schroeder was drunk; but it was too late. Flintwell, McDonald and Dawson are all in custody. Squires and Woolley gave themselves up this morning and will be discharged. Schroeder was an excellent soldier and stood well in the estimation of his officers and comrades.

Railroad Accident.

CHICAGO, August 20.
 A Cairo, Ill., special says: Coups circous left here this morning in two sections, and when about 50 miles north of this city, the engine on the second section ran into a passenger coach on the rear of the first train, completely demolishing the coach and killing three drivers and wounding 35 or 40 others. They were going down grade with the first section heavily loaded and the second rather light. The second train was running fast at the time of the accident. The stock and cars ahead of the coach in the first section and rear of the engine in the second section escaped unhurt. Relief trains with physicians were sent to the scene of the wreck at once.

The Work of Murderers.

WARREN, Ill., August 21.
 James Bird, a jealous cooper, who had quarreled with his wife, yesterday sought her out at her sister's house in Gratiot, Wis., and after a few minutes talk and telling her that if they could not live happily together they ought at least to be friends, he drew a revolver and shot her twice, inflicting possibly fatal injuries. He then shot himself in the abdomen. His physician says that he can't live.

Mr. PULASKI, Ill., August 21.
 Charles McMahon, who has been missing for the past three days, was discovered yesterday, with two young men who had been working for him all three blind-folded and their throats cut. No cause known.

Utah Iron.

OGDEN, Utah, August 21.
 The Ogden furnace was lighted on Saturday last, and to-day made the first cast of iron, all number one and of superior quality. This is the first iron made in the great valley between the Rocky and Sierra Nevada mountains, or within a radius of 800 miles of Salt Lake, within which region there is a consumption of 40,000 tons of iron annually. The ores and fuel are excellent and abundant, and the whole market here will be supplied by home production, which inaugurates a great manufacturing era for this intermountain region. There is great rejoicing among people here over the successful manufacture of pig iron in Utah.

An Unsuccessful Attempt at Robbery.

ASHLAND, August 21.
 Burglars entered the house of a farmer named Cox, held revolvers at the heads of the inmates, and put Cox's hands and feet in the fire and beat him frightfully to make him tell where his money was. He deposited it in the bank and they got only $40. The robbers escaped.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

EGYPT'S TROUBLE.

Port Said Occupied by the English.—The Rebels Driven from Nekke-Arab Strongly Entrenched.

LONDON, August 20.

Rear-Admiral Hoskins, commanding at Port Said, reported at 7 A. M. as follows: We made all our arrangements yesterday for an advance. Commander Edwards, with the boats of the squadron, during the night occupied the canal, taking possession of the dredges, barges, etc., and also occupied Kantara before daylight. Fairfax occupied the port and Captain Fitzroy, of the Invincible, held Ismailia. All went well, and there was no difficulty. One ship went ashore in the canal, but vessels can pass. The ships with Admiral Seymour and General Wolsey aboard are in sight. From this it would appear the occupations were effected by the naval forces before the arrival of the transports. A later telegram from Port Said says the troops have already entered the canal with troops.

LONDON, August 20.

The Eastern Telegraph Company has announced that Port Said was occupied at 3 o'clock this morning by the English forces. At 2:30 this afternoon earthworks had been thrown up between the European and Arab quarters of the town. Seventeen transports and five men-of-war are at Port Said, and Admiral Seymour and Gen. Sir Garnet Wolsey are both there this morning. Ismailia is also occupied by the British and the rebel troops have been driven from the Nekke. The British have taken possession of the telegraph line from Port Said to Suez.

LONDON, August 20.

A dispatch from Alexandria says it is rumored that Arabi Pasha's intrenchments will be attacked Monday morning at 6 o'clock.

reconnaissance proves the excellent condition of Arabi's earth works, and the accuracy of the fire of his artillery. Reports from the interior show that Arabi Pasha is working the entire population on the earth works.

ALEXANDRIA, August 20.
 It has been discovered that Arabi Pasha has deep trenches well in advance of his intrenchments. It has been officially announced that the destination of the fleet is Tsmalia.

PORT SAID, August 20.
 The sailors are landing and disarming the natives, who offer no resistance. Several transports and a man-of-war are anchored here, and a fleet numbering seven vessels, are coming in. The gunboats Dee and Don have entered the canal. Rear-Admiral Hewitt has stopped canal traffic. The British Admiral, commanding, has been granted permission to land the shore end of the cable, which hitherto has been worked on board the ship John Pender.

LONDON, August 20.

A dispatch from Constantinople says: Lord Dufferin, in an interview to-day with Said Pasha and Asym Pasha, declared he was unable to accept the Turkish proposal for a military convention. Even in their new form, Said Pasha and Asym Pasha are said to be strongly in favor of an understanding with England.

ALEXANDRIA, August 20.

In a skirmish yesterday the Egyptians fired Shrapnel shell ineffectually at the outpost of the 44th infantry, numbering 300, occupying, temporarily, an entrenchment. The Egyptian infantry then advanced to within about 800 yards. They were coming from Nafr-el-Dwar. Some cavalry also appeared from the direction of Abouker. The Egyptian lines are most irregular, and some of the men apparently unarmed. About five o'clock in the evening the British ironclad train was sent out. A car with a 40-pounder was detached and sent about 40 yards in advance of the Egyptian line, who endeavored to execute a flanking movement. The 40-pounder, after this movement was frustrated, fired towards Kafr-el-Dwar. The Egyptians replied with a shell, which burst between the train and the engine. The train then retired, firing. During the retreat another shell exploded between the rails. The train finally retired without damage. The British infantry meanwhile fired from the intrenchment, causing a great loss—300 of Egyptian cavalry. Fighting ceased at sunset. Major-General Sir Edward Hamley has been ordered to support the bombardment of Abouker Forts by a flank attack from Ramleh and was unaware of the real plans until he opened this morning sealed orders he had received. A reconnaissance by an armored train, made yesterday afternoon, drew fire from the Egyptian 15 centimetre Krupp gun, but the aim was bad. The British 40 pounders on the train replied and silenced the enemy. The fortifications at Ramleh have been strengthened.

LONDON, August 21.

Admiral Hewitt telegraphs from Suez at 4 this morning, as follows: Yesterday Captain Hastings in command of the seamen and marines of the gunboats Sea Gull and Mosquito, assisted by 200 highlanders under Major Kelsey, proceeded to Shobief by way of Maritime canal, and found 600 of the enemy strongly entrenched behind the station. The English force landed and defeated them, taking 45 prisoners, a small cannon and a quantity of ammunition and stores. Our loss was two highlanders, and two seamen wounded. The enemy's loss about 100 killed and wounded. The bank of the fresh-water canal at Shalief is cut by the enemy, but it is being repaired now. A brigade reconnoitered in force at the same time and in the same direction. The transport Morton Hall, with the Seventh Bengal Infantry, has arrived at Suez. The French troopship Shamrock entered the canal this morning.

Losses by Fire.

The Eureka Leader has been furnished with some startling figures concerning the losses by fire on the Pacific coast the past year, which shows that 1883 promises to return a large number of "Irish dividends" to fire insurance companies. The aggregate of the losses for the first seven months in 1881 was $742,000, or forty-two per cent. of the entire year's losses, the aggregate of this year's losses up to August 1, approximately $1,620,000, which is at the rate of $2,770,000, or over $1,000,000 in excess of last year.

STOREY COUNTY PRIMARIES.

Who Will Represent Storey County in the State Convention, September 4. The Republican primaries were held in Virginia and delegates to the State Convention selected. The election passed off very quietly, no one becoming very much excited. There were two tickets in the field, both being called "unpledged tickets." One was headed: "Unpledged Delegates to the Republican State Convention," and known as the Strother ticket, while the other was headed: "Regular Unpledged Republican Ticket," and called by many on the street the "Yerington ticket."

Unpledged Delegates—D. B. Lyman, 76; Daniel H. Fraser, 74; Theodore Lamb, 77.

Delegates elected—Murray, Zeigler, and Lamb. (It is but fair to state here that Mr. Lyman beat himself by scratching his name off all the tickets he could get hold of.)

FIRST WARD (GOLD HILD).

Three delegates. Regular Unpledged—Reese, Leermo and Bennett, each 106 votes.

Unpledged Delegates—Taylor, 54; Mercer 53; McCarty, 43.

The result in the county is the election of sixteen "Regular Unpledged" delegates and nine "Unpledged Delegates." The total number of votes cast in the county was 1,863.

Escaped from Prison.

J. M. Mateer, Captain of the Prison Guard, was in town yesterday looking for one George Marsh who escaped from the prison Saturday. Marsh was at work with a horse and cart in the yard and walked out of the back gate unobserved and took to the hills. He was sent from Humboldt county for two years for burglary in breaking open a C. P. freight car. Warden Garrard has offered $100 for his capture and return to the prison.

Copper shipment.

The Eureka Sentinel of day before yesterday says: A six-horse team came in from Robinson District, White Pine county, loaded with a single piece of copper matte, run into a mold to fit the bottom of the wagon. It is in transit to San Francisco for refinement. It presented rather a singular and interesting spectacle, and attracted the attention of many persons on Main street as it was being hauled down to the depot.

Returned From the Hunt.

SATURDAY'S ELECTION.

After the Battle—Everybody Satisfied With the Delegation.

The official returns of Saturday's election are not all in yet, and it will be impossible to give the exact vote until the County Central Committee meets on the 26th. The vote in Reno and Wadsworth stood as follows:

RENO PRECINCT.

Nathan, 279; McFarlin, 154; Geo. Gregg, 285; W. E. Price, 284; T. K. Hymers, 154; W. D. Wagar, 168; S. Bishop, 184; H. M. Frost, 163; A. Lindley, 128; M. T. Coats, 85; M. J. Smith, 119; S. C. Fogus, 18; D. B. Boyd, 88; J. K. Everett, 103; C. F. Moeller, 14.

WADSWORTH'S VOTE.

Nathan, 63; Hymers, 13; McFarlin, 59; Wagar, 13; Bishop, 14; Lindley, 49; Coats, 50; Smith, 50; Fogus, 2; Boyd, 2; Gregg, 63; Frost, 14; Everett, 49; Price, 63.

The voters selected the following gentlemen to represent them in the State Convention: McFarlin, Gregg, Nathan, Price, Frost, Lindley, Smith and Bishop. McFarlin, Gregg, Price and Nathan were on both tickets. Lindley and Smith were on the "citizens," or Boardman ticket, and Frost and Bishop were on the "unpledged" ticket. So honors are easy, so far as the two tickets go. The delegates are favorable to Washoe county candidates. Evans, Washoe's candidate for Governor, will be kindly treated by the delegation, and they will make a fight to secure his nomination, while Beardman's claims for Attorney-General will be carefully guarded, and a stubborn fight made to secure his nomination. The delegation is also friendly to Powning, and he will receive the support of all of them for Congress. In fact, all the Washoe candidates will receive the warm support of every one of the delegation so long as there is a ghost of a show for them to win their respective fights. The best of feeling prevails, and the aspirants and their friends are satisfied with the selection, believing that the ticket is composed of fair, honest and capable men, who will carefully guard Washoe's interests and work to the best of their ability to promote and protect the Republican party. All interested are well pleased and are showing an interest to enter the fight hand-in-hand, laying aside all factional feeling and working for the good of the State ticket.

KIND WORDS.

Resolutions Adopted by Professor Ring's Pupils at the Reception Friday Evening.

At the reunion of Professor Ring's old pupils, on Friday evening, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS the Trustees of the Reno Public School have seen fit to remove our honored and respected Principal, Orvis Ring, from a position long and faithfully filled, therefore be it

Resolved that, while humbly submitting to the authority of the Trustees, we greatly regret the loss of so worthy and efficient a teacher.

Resolved that during Mr. Ring's 12 years' residence among us we have ever found him a trustworthy friend, an efficient educator and a man of thorough integrity and honor.

Resolved that, in the retirement of Mr. Ring, the public has lost the services of a man whose life, thus far, has been devoted to educational work, whose deepest interest is in the proper moral and intellectual training of the young, and whose heart and mind are entirely absorbed in his important profession.

Resolved that we offer our earnest regards for the future welfare of our late Principal, and that in his new field of labor, wherever it may be, he will carry with him our sincere and earnest wishes for his future success and happiness.
